

CardioBeets Downline/Team Email

Hi Team!

Did you know that Youngevity recently launched an incredible, new performance product? CardioBeets contains a proprietary blend of nutrients that boost nitric oxide production to support circulation, oxygen transport, and cardiovascular health. It's made using standardized red beet powder to provide high-quality nutritional support to the cardiovascular system.*

If you want to learn more about CardioBeets and how it can support athletic performance and heart health, you can visit www.cardiobeets.com to get all the details. Additionally, they've provided us with a downloadable sell sheet, graphics, recipes and other materials to help us share this exceptional product with others who are interested in improving endurance and supporting a healthy cardiovascular system.

If you have any questions about CardioBeets, or any other products that support heart health, please feel free to reach out.

Thanks!
