YOUNGEVITY.

The world’s best coffee
DOING A WORLD OF GOOD
We’re changing lives
ONE CUP AT A TIME.
That’s because 100% of the proceeds from these humble beans go to our Be The Change Foundation that helps people and communities in need around the world.†

It all began in 2014 when Youngevity International purchased a 1,000-acre coffee plantation in the lush rainforest of Matagalpa, Nicaragua. At the time, the plantation was in a state of disrepair, but was home to 180 dedicated workers and their families. Moved by the plight of the plantation community—and the possibilities of restoring their home to its former splendor—the Youngevity Be The Change Foundation was born.

The foundation’s first order of business was to care for the people who lived at the plantation by organizing a clothing and shoe drive. Next—in partnership with Fair Trade—the foundation built a new hydroelectricity plant to generate green power and a three-story condominium-style dormitory, where the families could live and thrive. It also reopened the school and added a daycare. And, in an effort to reach out to all ages, our partner, Marisol Siles, started a literacy program for the adults at the plantation, many of whom could not even sign their names when the program began. The literacy program has been so successful, it now extends to the adults of neighboring plantations.

Today, Youngevity’s Be The Change Foundation reaches far beyond the lush mountains of Matagalpa, Nicaragua and contributes to a host of charities (see back cover).

By purchasing our coffee, you’re not only choosing the world’s best coffee, you’re doing a world of good by helping our foundation make extraordinary changes in everyday lives.

WHAT MAKES OUR COFFEE SO DELICIOUSLY UNIQUE?
From the moment our coffee beans are planted until the moment they reach your door, we go through great lengths to ensure you’re getting the best coffee in the world. To make that happen, our coffee is quadruple certified.

HAND-PICKED AND CERTIFIED ORGANIC
Our beans are grown on rich, chemical-free soil in the mountains of Matagalpa, Nicaragua, where they’re meticulously planted, cultivated, and picked by hand at the precise moment when the coffee cherries turn red.

From there, we remove the cherry skin using a wet process that produces green power in the middle of the rainforest. Once the skin has been removed, the beans are shipped to our processing plant, where they’ll dry in the warm Nicaraguan sun before they’re shipped to our certified roaster. By controlling the process from start to finish, we’re able to ensure you’re getting the world’s best cup of coffee.

FAIR TRADE CERTIFIED™
Our coffee beans are Fair Trade Certified™. Fair Trade certification emphasizes the importance of communal, financial, and environmental standards to benefit communities and our planet. Some of these include creating safe working conditions, emboldening communities to form their own flourishing businesses, and encouraging them to use environmentally friendly practices. Products created with a Fair Trade certification provide the jobs and business skills needed for more than 1.2 million farming families across Latin America, Africa, and Asia to thrive.

RAINFOREST ALLIANCE CERTIFIED™
The Rainforest Alliance works with coffee farmers to improve the way they farm and ensure they’re receiving fair wages, healthy living and working conditions, and access to education. The alliance also protects land, wildlife, and waterways.

BIRD FRIENDLY CERTIFIED
Developed by the Smithsonian Migratory Bird Center, the Bird Friendly certification ensures that our coffees are certified organic and that the area’s indigenous shade trees are able to thrive. These shade trees provide habitats that are crucial to migratory birds and the area’s ecosystem, and they create an environment that’s perfect for exceptional “shade grown” coffee.
